MONEY IN THE BANK

You spend less if the money is away from your pocket. It is safer, too, and there is no making change when you pay by check. Ask any depositor or call and talk it over.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Angelo Scampini announces that his Merry-Go-Round will be in operation for the Summer beginning Saturday, July 2d, on the Berlin street grounds opposite his house. Come and enjoy a ride, hear the music and have a good time.

RAFAEL BARSHIE, SHOE REPAIRING.

CURIOUS CULLINGS.

New Orleans is fighting white ants for a pastime, and it is said that the insects are fast devouring some of the wooden houses.

A Nebraska man thrust his trousers, containing $3,000, out of a sleeping car window, thinking he was putting them into the hammock of his berth, and didn't discover his loss until the next morning.

A carpet needle nearly three inches long has been extracted from the body of Mrs. Herman Schuler of Meriden, Conn. The instrument had traveled in ten years from her left knee to a spot near her heart.

Odd names have been given to bouncing boy twins born to Mr. and Mrs. John D. Conley of York, Pa. The firstborn was named Enough by the apprehensive father. Enough's brother will have to answer to the somewhat humiliating appellation of Last.

Parted Hair a Renewed Vogue.

Many women are returning to the old fashioned way of parting the hair, but this restoration of a charming but disused style applies only to women with abundant hair, says the New York Press. The pompadour and "beau catcher" coiffures were a boon to women with scant hair because they gave the opportunity to art to supply the defects of nature. Miss Isabel May, daughter of Henry May, has come forth with her thick brown hair parted and draped back over her ears. The back hair is worn in a simple coiled braid. Miss May has never worn flowers or feathers in her hair. Miss Daisy Leiter is another fashionable woman who has clung to the parted hair, and likewise her sister, Lady Curzon. Both of the Leiter girls have classic features, and the tall pompadour was not becoming to them. Mrs. Stanford White has always parted her hair, and some of the Meadowbrook women who incline toward simplicity in dress use the parted coiffure.

Coinage of a Word by Opticians.

Opticians hereafter are to be known as "optometrists," according to a decision reached recently by the American Association of Opticians while in session in Milwaukee, says the Chicago Record-Herald. The convention officially coined the word "optometry"—the science which treats of the physiology of the function of vision and the physical effect thereon of lenses, and the title of "optometrist"—one skilled in optometry.
